Time Management

Dear Parent

Time Management is a very important LIFE SKILL and we have to train our children how to manage their time.

A very good exercise in this regard is to make a time table for home.

Help your ward make a time table to manage his time at home.

Let them plan their day in advance and follow the time table on a regular basis.

Dear Student

Please take help from your parents and draft a time table for your self.

Write as many details as possible make your time table.

Submit the time table through a WhatsApp message at 60668131, so that we can also understand how hard working and diligent you are.

15.08.2024

Many get confused between Independence Day and Republic Day. Do you know there is a difference between the way the flag is hoisted on 15th August and on 26th January?

1) First difference:

On the occasion of 15th August — Independence Day, the flag is pulled up by a rope from below, then opened and hoisted. This is done to honour the historical event of 15 August 1947. In the constitution, it is called Flag Hoisting.

On the other hand, on 26 January — Republic Day, the flag remains tied at the top, which is then opened and hoisted. In the Constitution it is called Flag Unfurling.

2) Second difference:

On August 15, the Prime Minister (head of the Central Government) hoists the flag, because the Constitution of India did not come into force on the day India got independence. The President (constitutional head of the nation), had not taken office then.

On the other hand, on Republic Day, the President addresses the nation. 26 January commemorates the implementation of the Constitution in the country.

On this day, the constitutional head or the President hoists the flag.

3) 3rd difference:

Flag hoisting is done from the Red Fort on Independence Day. At the same time, the flag is unfurled on Rajpath on Republic Day.

As we gear up to celebrate the 78th anniversary of our Independence, this information is for every INDIAN to know about.

Student's Birthday Celebration Policy -

Dear all

We are happy to celebrate the student's birthday in school.

Birthdays are celebrated in the many ways -

Birthday song is sung by all students and teachers in the morning assembly / classroom.

The class teacher gives him / her a birthday card.

The student is invited to the Principal's office for blessings and warm wishes.

Please note that the distribution of any type of eatables / gifts etc is not allowed.

Parents are requested NOT to send any cake / pizza / cold drink / junk food / bakery items / chocolates / toys / pens / pencils / etc to school.

It leads to comparison and disparity among the students.

Students force their parents to spend more money on costly gift items.

We seek your cooperation to set up a healthy culture in school leading to equality and equity.

Let us celebrate the birthdays in a happy and healthy way leading to no comparisons or contradictions.

Happy Celebrations !
